

Trail Coordinator Report Nov 10/19

After 12 trips, the Thunder Mountain shelter is now complete except for a few minor additions. (hooks, racks and cupboard). Thanks to the 25 people who donated their time for at least one day. Also a big thanks to the 10 people that donated material to the shelter. This includes foundation teleposts, vinyl siding, cedar siding, paint, electrical, wood stove, woodshed, table, chairs, signs and many other items.

As a lot of you know 10 of us were out trail clearing yesterday near the shelter and ran into some tough clearing. We did clear to within 1 km of our goal which is the open meadow south of the shelter. At least one more day is required to complete this trail. We have not yet checked other trails but definitely there will be work on those also. When you go out sledding make sure to carry some type of saw with you or you could find yourself turning back. Jim and I checked out the Musquash shelter a few weeks ago and all is well at the shelter but many trees down on the trail.
